ITINERARY OVERVIEW

Join us for an immersive 9 day journey through Cuba's national parks, nature reserves, and six UNESCO World Heritage sites. This tour offers a unique opportunity to step off the beaten path and experience Cuba beyond the typical tourist view. As you walk through the country's diverse landscapes, you'll encounter the spirit of Cuba's history, culture, and people. From the vibrant streets of Havana to the lush swamplands and rugged mountains, Cuba's natural beauty is as compelling as its colonial architecture and revolutionary history. On this walking tour, you'll explore rural landscapes, visit historical sites, and engage with local farmers, artists, historians, and other community members, gaining a deeper understanding of the country's evolving identity. Each day's exploration covers 3-8 miles with easy to moderate elevation, ensuring a comfortable yet active experience. You'll stay in a mix of accommodations that includes traditional casas particulares, offering an intimate and authentic glimpse into Cuban life, along with boutique hotels and charming bed & breakfasts for an upgraded, more comfortable stay where possible. This tour is perfect for those seeking an active, educational, and culturally rich experience in Cuba, led by expert local guides and enriched by meaningful interactions with the Cuban people.

ITINERARY IN DETAIL

Day 1 | Arrival to Havana, Cuba

Welcome to Havana!! Your private guide and driver will meet you at the airport to take you to your accommodation. After you settle into some of the city's best bed and breakfasts, known locally as casas particulares, you will get a comprehensive orientation to prepare you for your time in Cuba. If time allows it explore the neighborhood, and immerse yourself in the lively culture of Cuba at your own pace with your guide. When available to the public, your guide will take you to the Fabrica de Arte Cubano (FAC), a dynamic and innovative cultural hub in Havana, where art, music, and creativity converge under one roof. This converted factory space showcases contemporary art exhibitions, live performances, film screenings, and more, offering a unique and immersive cultural experience. On the same premises, Tierra Restaurant complements the artistic atmosphere with a menu that features both Cuban and international cuisine, providing a delightful culinary journey for visitors to savor amidst the vibrant art scene and where dinner will be served. Overnight at La Reserva Casa Particular or similar.

Day 2 | Las Terrazas, Sierra del Rosario

Following a leisurely breakfast, we will embark on our journey westward to Las Terrazas, located in the Sierra del Rosario mountains. Designated as a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve, Las Terrazas was established in 1968 as part of Fidel Castro's reforestation initiative, aimed at restoring areas that had been heavily logged since the arrival of the Spanish conquistadors. Once dominated by coffee plantations, the region now spans 5,000 hectares and is home to over 117 bird species, including 12 endemics such as the vibrant tocororo and zorzal. We'll begin our exploration of Las Terrazas with a scenic 5-kilometer (3.11 miles) hike along the Sendero La Serafina, a trail that winds through the reforested landscape and past the remnants of the historic Saint Serafina plantation. After our afternoon adventure, we'll settle into our accommodations for the evening and enjoy a traditional Cuban dinner, offering a true taste of local cuisine. Overnight at Casa Particular or similar.

Day 3 | Valle de Viñales

After an early breakfast, we depart westward for one of Cuba's most picturesque national parks—Valle de Viñales. Nestled within the rolling hills of the Sierra de los Órganos, this UNESCO World Heritage Site is home to a diverse array of unique ecosystems. Throughout the day, we will explore the valley's varied landscapes, gaining insights into Cuba's iconic tobacco industry and the geological forces that shaped this remarkable region. The valley is renowned for its striking mogotes—towering limestone formations that seem to erupt from the earth, a dramatic result of erosion that began around 160 million years ago. One of the most iconic features of the valley are the Mogotes dos Hermanas (Two Sisters), twin mogotes that stand side by side, watching over vast stretches of flat farmland. Beneath these mogotes lies a landscape dominated by Cuba's prized tobacco fields, their rich, umber soil lined with rows of tall plants bearing broad, vibrant green leaves. This stunning sight represents Cuba's legendary tobacco industry, which has achieved near-mythical status worldwide. We'll enjoy a farm-to-table lunch at an organic restaurant before heading to a local tobacco plantation for a firsthand look at the cultivation process. In the afternoon, we visit a despalillo (tobacco processing factory), where we will learn about the curing and fermentation techniques that follow the harvest. By late afternoon, after a day of exploration and fresh air, we return to our accommodations, reflecting on the beauty and traditions of this UNESCO-protected valley. Overnight at Casa Particular, Bed and Breakfast or authorized hotel.

Day 4 | Hemingway's Finca Vigia, Bay of Pigs, Presentation

We begin our journey with a drive east to the outskirts of Havana, where we visit Finca Vigía, the former home of Ernest Hemingway. It was here that the renowned author lived for two decades, writing some of his most celebrated works. After exploring the house and grounds, we'll enjoy lunch at a nearby paladar (private restaurant) before continuing our drive southeast toward the Bay of Pigs. Our destination is Playa Larga, a peaceful village located on the shores of the Bahía de Cochinos (Bay of Pigs), famously known for the 1961 CIA-backed invasion that took place here. Upon arrival, we check into our charming accommodations, a welcoming Casa that reflects the warmth of the local community. Later, we are joined by Frank Medina, Director of Zapata National Park, for an engaging presentation. Frank will share insights into the challenges of balancing tourism and conservation in the park, as well as its many successes. The Ciénaga de Zapata is not only a designated national park but also a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve, home to expansive forests and mangrove wetlands that remain largely untouched. The park is a haven for wildlife, including crocodiles, iguanas, flamingos, and wild boars. It is also a prime destination for birdwatchers, with endemic species such as the Cuban pygmy owl, bee hummingbird, and Zapata rail thriving in the area. After an enlightening discussion, we'll enjoy a festive dinner, savoring the flavors of authentic Cuban cuisine. Overnight at Casa Enrique or similar.

Day 5 | Exploring Zapata National Park & the Bay of Pigs

We begin our day with an exploration of Zapata National Park, one of Cuba's most ecologically significant areas. Our first stop takes us along the coast to a prime snorkeling location, where vibrant fish and healthy coral reefs provide a fascinating glimpse into Cuba's marine conservation efforts. The country is home to some of the healthiest reef systems in the Caribbean, making this an exceptional opportunity to learn about ongoing preservation initiatives. Next, we venture onto a hidden trail that winds through the forest, passing by cenotes (sinkholes) typical of the region's limestone geology. This area is also renowned for birdwatching, and we may be fortunate enough to spot species such as the Key West quail dove, Cuban bullfinch, and Cuban peewee. Our journey continues to Playa Girón, a small town known for its historical significance. We visit the Museum of the Bay of Pigs Invasion, which recounts the events of the infamous 1961 invasion. The town's name originates from the French pirate Gilbert Girón, whose decapitation at the hands of locals is commemorated in the area's history. After lunch at a local restaurant, we drive eastward to Trinidad, one of Cuba's most beautifully preserved colonial towns. Known for its old-world charm, Trinidad has retained much of its historical character, eschewing modern developments to preserve its colonial ambiance. We enjoy a walking tour of this UNESCO World Heritage Site, where the grandeur of the past is still evident in the Italian frescoes, ornate chandeliers, and bone china that grace the plantation-era mansions.

Day 6 | Exploring the Sierra Escambray and Parque Natural Topes de Collantes

We begin our day with an early departure, heading into the rugged, pine-covered slopes of the Sierra Escambray (also known as the Guamuñaya Mountains). Nestled within this mountain range is the Gran Parque Natural Topes de Collantes—a protected natural reserve, which, although not officially designated as a national park, is safeguarded by the Cuban government alongside the four smaller parks that form the larger Topes reserve. Depending on weather conditions, group ability, and current trail conditions, we'll embark on a guided hike with a local park expert. One option is the Salto del Caburní trail, a 5-kilometer (3.11 miles) round-trip hike that leads to a breathtaking 62-meter (203 feet) waterfall. The waterfall cascades down cliffs into clear swimming holes below, creating a stunning natural spectacle. Adventurous visitors may even be tempted to take a jump into the chasm, where the water rushes through the rocks. If water levels are low, we may opt for the Vegas Grandes hike, which winds through lush ferns and pine forests, eventually reaching another beautiful waterfall and swimming pool. Another option is the Sendero La Batata (Sweet Potato Trail), a 6-kilometer (3.73 miles) hike through dense forest to a prehistoric cave, where an underwater river flows. This trail offers an immersive experience through forests rich in mosses and lichens, with crystal-clear pools and cascading waterfalls. By mid-to-late afternoon, we return to Trinidad, where we have some free time before dinner. We conclude the day with a visit to the home and studio of Yudith Vidal, a renowned local artist, for a deeper look into the creative spirit of the region. Overnight at Casa Particular (Bed & Breakfast) or local hotel.

Day 7 | Cienfuegos Botanical Gardens and City

We depart Trinidad and travel west along the coast, with the towering Sierra Escambray mountains to the north and the turquoise waters of the Caribbean to the south. Our first stop is the mouth of the Bay of Cienfuegos, where you'll have the option to enjoy a leisurely kayak paddle to the historic Fortress of Our Lady of the Angels of Jagua. Built in 1742 by order of King Philip V of Spain, this fortress was designed to defend against pirates that once roamed the Caribbean coast. After our paddle and fortress visit, we will dine at a seaside restaurant renowned for its fresh and flavorful seafood. Following lunch, we drive a short distance to the Cienfuegos Botanical Gardens, where we'll enjoy a guided tour with a local specialist. Founded in 1899 by New Englander Edward Atkins, the garden was later leased to Harvard University for 99 years. This lush botanical haven is home to over 1,400 species of trees and plants from around the world, providing a serene and educational walk through its diverse collections. We continue on to the coastal port town of Cienfuegos, known as the "Pearl of the South" for its elegant architecture and stunning seaside views. Founded in the 1820s, Cienfuegos was settled by French immigrants from Bordeaux and Louisiana, and its distinctive French colonial influence is evident throughout the city. As a UNESCO World Heritage Site, Cienfuegos boasts impressive structures such as the Teatro Tomás Terry, a grand 19th-century theater, and other architectural gems. We'll take an informative walking tour through the town, exploring the Prado—a beautiful mansion-lined promenade—and other notable landmarks. Overnight at a Casa Particular (Bed & Breakfast) or local hotel

Day 8 | Havana

We depart Cienfuegos for the scenic 3-hour drive to Havana, Cuba's vibrant capital. Upon arrival, we begin with a walking tour of Havana Vieja (Old Havana), a UNESCO World Heritage site, where we'll explore the city's rich colonial history. We stop for lunch at one of Havana's top paladares (private restaurants), where you can savor authentic Cuban cuisine in a local setting. Refreshed, we continue our exploration, strolling along the bustling Obispo Street and visiting significant landmarks such as the Palacio de los Capitanes Generales, the Museo de la Ciudad, the Plaza de Armas, the Plaza de la Catedral, and the Catedral de San Cristóbal de La Habana. As we walk, our guide will share stories of Havana's turbulent past—from colonial plundering to revolutionary struggles—while also shedding light on the modern-day Cuban experience and the aspirations of the people who call this vibrant city home. After an afternoon of exploration, we enjoy a classic car ride through Vedado and Miramar, two of Havana's most iconic neighborhoods, offering a glimpse into the city's diverse architecture and culture. The ride provides a unique way to see the city's landmarks and local life. The day concludes with a delicious dinner at one of Havana's finest paladares, where you can indulge in a memorable meal. For those interested in experiencing Havana's lively music scene, there are several options to choose from. One popular spot is Fábrica de Arte Cubano, a trendy venue showcasing Cuba's cutting-edge art and live performances. Alternatively, you can enjoy live jazz at one of the city's renowned clubs or explore other vibrant nightlife offerings. Overnight at Casa Particular (Bed & Breakfast) or local hotel

Day 9 | Hasta la Vista Havana!

Prepare for your departure by transferring to the airport, where you have the opportunity to cash in any remaining CUCs at the gift shop or exchange them for dollars. As you await your return flight, take a moment to reflect on the incredible memories and experiences you've gathered during your time in Cuba. We sincerely hope that this journey has left an indelible mark on your heart. Safe travels on your journey back home!

GREEN PLANET EXPEDITIONS APPROACH IN CUBA

Experience the 'Green Planet Expeditions' approach of immersive exploration in Cuba during our legal Support for the Cuban People expedition. For 5-6 hours each day, we delve into the vibrant fabric of Cuban life, both in urban and rural settings. This meticulously crafted itinerary has been designed in collaboration with our knowledgeable local guides, following the principles of 'Green Planet Expeditions approach'. Drawing from their extensive experience exploring Cuba, we connect you with diverse local Cubans, many of whom are our friends and personal acquaintances.

Indulge in culinary delights at some of Cuba’s finest paladares, privately owned restaurants and cafes. Our accommodations range from classic boutique hotels to renovated casas particulares, privately-run B&Bs where enterprising Cubans open their doors, sharing their lives and earning income by hosting visitors. This trip is intended to be eye-opening and thought-provoking, leaving you feeling invigorated and grateful for the opportunity to delve into the depths of Cuban culture. It is important to note that each trip is unique due to various factors, including government policy changes, rescheduled activities, and last-minute cancellations. Our guides are skilled at adapting to these changes, ensuring that each trip provides a captivating and in-depth experience that is truly one-of-a-kind.

Note: We are traveling under a Support to the Cuban People license as authorized by the Office of Foreign Assets Control by the general license of 565.574. Actual routes and activities may vary. As tourism to Cuba continues to evolve, together with our in-country experts, we are always looking for new travel opportunities to share deeper and more personal insights through our expanding network of friends, boutique hotel proprietors, artists and musicians, professors, and diplomats, and other Cubans who have much to share with us. Due to such rapidly changing developments in Cuban tourism, we may change programmed activities as new opportunities arise, and substitute accommodations when other properties come online. Because of increasing tourism to Cuba domestic prices continue to rise and are subject to change without notice, so it’s best to book your trip ASAP to lock in your cost.

Important: Travel in Cuba requires a flexible attitude. Our days are full, and as required by U.S. law, we have a full-time agenda of support to the Cuban people activities. Cuba has its own beat, and things don’t always run on time. Note that the activities, visits, and accommodations listed are not guaranteed; but we endeavor to do our best to provide the intended experiences of this program. Accommodation varies widely and both services and amenities may not be up to the standards you might expect, i.e. Sometimes hot water or air conditioning doesn’t work, or elevators are out of service. We ask all our guests to consider the scarcity of resources living under an ongoing economic blockade, and to appreciate the authenticity of your experiences among the people, food, adventures and tourist services that are all uniquely Cuban! Your trip leader and local guides do their best to help you feel welcome and comfortable, so you can enjoy this fascinating and educational experience.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Casas Particulares (any area of Cuba)

A Casa Particular is a type of private homestay in Cuba, where local families open their homes to travelers, offering a more personal and authentic experience compared to hotels. Staying in a casa particular allows you to immerse yourself in Cuban culture, often giving you the chance to interact with your hosts, learn about their daily lives, and even enjoy homemade Cuban meals. Accommodations typically include private bathrooms with warm water, and some casas even offer WiFi, although we can't guarantee which ones will have these amenities. The spaces can range from simple, rustic rooms to more comfortable and well-appointed options, ensuring a warm, welcoming atmosphere no matter where you stay. Many casa particulars are well-located, often close to major attractions, beaches, or cultural spots. Some Casas have the tourist rooms separated from the rest of the house, while other have a shared living room. Think of it as a Cuban version of a bed and breakfast, but with a unique local twist. It's one of the best ways to see Cuba through the eyes of its people, providing not just a place to sleep, but a connection to the country's heart and soul. Invariably, travelers find that they enjoy their stays in casa particulars even more than in hotels. The genuine hospitality, local flavor, and personal touches create unforgettable memories that you simply can't replicate in a traditional hotel setting. So, if you're looking for an adventure that feels like home, these casas particulares will be your home away from home.

La Reserva or similar, Havana

La Reserva Vedado is a beautifully restored boutique guesthouse located in the heart of Havana's vibrant Vedado neighborhood. This colonial-era mansion combines classic Cuban charm with modern comforts, offering travelers an elegant and tranquil retreat in the bustling city. Each room is uniquely decorated with vintage furniture and local artwork, providing a blend of traditional and contemporary styles. All rooms come with air conditioning, free WiFi, a private bathroom with complimentary toiletries, and a minibar. Some rooms also feature private balconies, offering views of the surrounding gardens or city. Guests can enjoy breakfast in the lush garden patio, relax in the cozy common areas, or sip a cocktail at the bar. The guesthouse is within walking distance of iconic landmarks, such as the Malecón and the University of Havana, making it a perfect base for exploring the city's cultural and historical highlights.

Casa Enrique or similar, Playa Larga

Casa Enrique in Playa Larga is an ideal stay for kayaking enthusiasts, located just steps away from the beach, offering easy access to the Bay of Pigs' calm waters. This family-run guesthouse provides a cozy, welcoming atmosphere for travelers looking to explore the area's natural beauty. The rooms offer ceiling fans and private bathrooms. After a day on the water, guests can relax on the rooftop terrace, where live music is sometimes played, creating a perfect setting for unwinding. Delicious homemade meals, including fresh seafood, are served in the outdoor dining area with garden views. With its proximity to the beach and warm hospitality, Casa Enrique offers a memorable retreat for your kayaking trip, making it a basic but ideal base for adventure and relaxation in Playa Larga.

Casa Kenia or similar, Trinidad

Casa Kenia exudes rustic Cuban character, offering a peaceful getaway just outside the bustling hub of Trinidad. Converted from a 19th-century traditional family home, the ambiance is homely and relaxed, allowing guests to sink into the rhythm of Caribbean life. The casa is nestled perfectly beside the Escambray Mountains, providing an ideal setting for nature lovers and those seeking tranquility. The casa features 6 simply decorated double bedrooms, each furnished with woven quilts and wooden furniture, reflecting its rustic charm. The rooms are equipped with modern conveniences uncommon in remote Cuban lodgings, such as en suite bathrooms with power showers, minibars, and air conditioning, ensuring a comfortable stay just outside of Trinidad. Guests can savor Cuban and international cuisine, made with fresh, locally sourced produce from the garden. Enjoy your homemade meal in the outdoor rancho dining area, by the swimming pool, or on your own private terrace.

Hotel Jagua or similar, Cienfuegos

Hotel Jagua, located in the picturesque city of Cienfuegos, is one of Cuba's most iconic hotels, offering a blend of 1950s elegance and modern comfort. Situated in the upscale Punta Gorda neighborhood, this hotel boasts stunning views of Cienfuegos Bay and is within walking distance of the city's main attractions, including the beautiful Palacio de Valle. The spacious rooms at Hotel Jagua feature a retro style with modern amenities, including air conditioning, en suite bathrooms, satellite TV, and private balconies with stunning views of the bay or the lush gardens. Hotel Jagua features an outdoor swimming pool, perfect for cooling off after a day of sightseeing. The hotel also offers WiFi, a fitness center, and live music performances in the evenings, adding to the vibrant atmosphere of this historic hotel.
